

Fruit in Spanish Vocabulary + Gender

MASCULINE FRUIT:

un mango /a mango - un melón /a melon - un limón /a lemon -
un higo /a fig - un melocotón /a peach - un plátano /a banana
un albaricoque an apricot

FEMININE FRUIT:

una cereza /a cherry - una nectarina /a nectarine -
una uva /a grape - una manzana /an apple - una pera /a pear una mandarina /a mandarin - una naranja /an orange una ciruela /a plum - una fresa /a strawberry - una papaya /a papaya - una piña /a pineapple
una sandía /a watermelon

Use Es + un/una to say what a fruit is in Spanish:

E.g.

Es una cereza = it is a cherry

Es un melón = it is a melon

How to say what kind of fruit you like:

Me gusta la fruta = I like fruit

Always include el, la, los, las in front of the name of the fruit you like.

1. If you can eat it whole use the PLURAL.

E.g.

Me gustan los melocotones (I like peaches)

Me gustan las manzanas (I like apples)

Me gustan los plátanos (I like bananas)

2. (pineapple, melon, big papaya, watermelon)

If the fruit is very big use the SINGULAR.

E.g.

Me gusta la sandía (I like watermelon)

Me gusta la piña (I like pineapple)

Me gusta la papaya (I like papaya)